DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 2, 9, 11 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. A broad range or limitation together with a narrow range or limitation that falls within the broad range or limitation (in the same claim) is considered indefinite, since the resulting claim does not clearly set forth the metes and bounds of the patent protection desired. Note the explanation given by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in Ex parte Wu, 10 USPQ2d 2031, 2033 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1989), as to where broad language is followed by "such as" and then narrow language. The Board stated that this can render a claim indefinite by raising a question or doubt as to whether the feature introduced by such language is (a) merely exemplary of the remainder of the claim, and therefore not required, or (b) a required feature of the claims. Note also, for example, the decisions of Ex parte Steigewald, 131 USPQ 74 (Bd. App. 1961); Ex parte Hall, 83 USPQ 38 (Bd. App. 1948); and Ex parte Hasche, 86 USPQ 481 (Bd. App. 1949). In the present instance, claim s 9 & 11 recites the broad recitation softening point and Tg such as 95-140, and the claim also recites 110-125 which is the narrower statement of the range/limitation. Claim 3 does not state what a low molecular weight is.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

(b) The invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-5, 13-36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mahabadi et al (5,229,242). Mahabadi et al teaches a toner composition of resin, pigment particles, wax particles and a compatibilizer. Applicants have a aromatic hydrocarbon compatilizer however Mahabadi teaches Col 7 lines 45-Col. 8 line 15 that the compatibilizer can be a styrene block graft polymer. Suitable resins as the binder are taught in Col.5 such as styrene/methacrylate with a first and second resin note Col.6 lines 20-30. Pigments such as carbon black and colorants of magenta cyan or yellow are shown Col. 6 lines 35-65. Low molecular weight, for example from about 1000 to about 20,000, waxes are taught in Col. 7 lines 25-40. The toner can be used in known electrophotographic methods with carriers both coated and non-coated ferrites note Col. 9 lines 10-35.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 1756

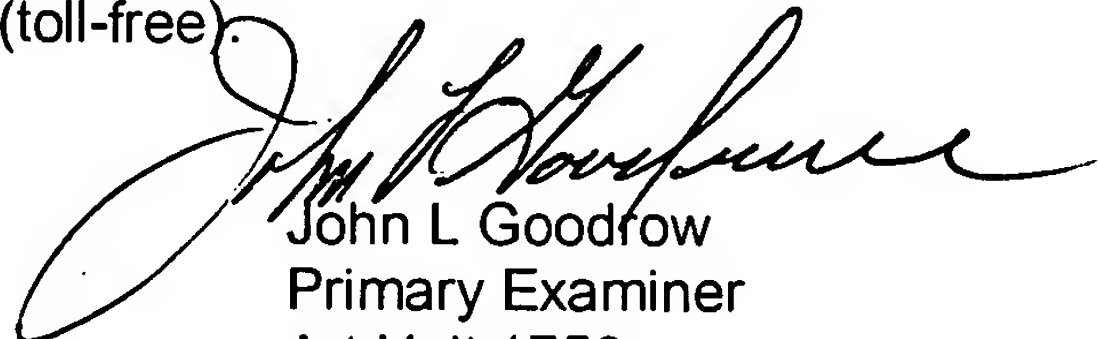

Claims 1-38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hikosaka et al in view of Mahabadi et al. Hikosaka et al teaches a binder resin for a toner with specific components that improve the fixability and the grindability of the toner in its production. The resin can be a isopropenyltoluene and indene as taught Col. 4 line 29-35 and again Col. 6 line 55-Col.7 line 7. Hikosaka et al does not other resin binder components or carriers used in an electrophotographic process. Mahabadi et al as noted above teaches resin and carriers used in the toner developer. It would be obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicants' invention with a reasonable expectation of success to use the known binders and carriers in a developer with the specific resin composition of Hikosaka et al in improving the pulverizing of the toner in the preparation of the toner particle.
